

LEARNING-FOCUSED Lessons MicroPD Course 5 Assessment Prompts: As You Learn, Organize Key Points

Use this graphic organizer to record key elements of formative assessment and how the elements are reflected in planning and using Assessment Prompts.

The graphic organizer consists of five rows, each designed for a specific key element. Each row contains two main components: a large arrow-shaped callout bubble on the left and a thought bubble on the right. The rows are color-coded and labeled as follows:

- Row 1: Labeled "Key Element #1". The callout bubble is green and points to the right. The thought bubble is also green and is positioned to the right of the callout bubble.
- Row 2: Labeled "Key Element #2". The callout bubble is blue and points to the right. The thought bubble is also blue and is positioned to the left of the callout bubble.
- Row 3: Labeled "Key Element #3". The callout bubble is orange and points to the right. The thought bubble is also orange and is positioned to the right of the callout bubble.
- Row 4: Labeled "Key Element #4". The callout bubble is light blue and points to the right. The thought bubble is also light blue and is positioned to the left of the callout bubble.
- Row 5: Labeled "Key Element #5". The callout bubble is purple and points to the right. The thought bubble is also purple and is positioned to the right of the callout bubble.
